

AZURE

DESIGN | ARCHITECTURE | INTERIORS | CURIOSITY

AZUREMAGAZINE.COM

NOUVEAU LOUVRE

Sanaa's masterful museum P. 38

IT'S ALL ABOUT THE GARDEN

A plant-covered house in Lisbon P. 82

ROOM-DEFINING SOFAS

20+ fabulous options P. 94

ZURICH'S 25HOURS HOTEL

Relaxed luxury in District 5 P. 90

THE NEW ICONS

10+
AMAZING
BUILDINGS
THAT ARE SHAPING THE FUTURE P. 54

+ HOW TO COZY UP THE OFFICE P. 84

+ SUPER-MINIMAL LIGHTING BY DAVIDE GROPPI P. 78

JUST ADD AIR

Make a splash while saving water with these aerating low-flow bathroom faucets that save up to five litres of water a minute

Compiled by Elizabeth Pagliacolo
Digital imaging by Marcelle Faucher

← 180° by Fantini
The 2013 saves from the socially conscious faucet maker Fantini build faucet company is also coming an aqueduct line to improve local access to clean water. The fixture comes in a variety of colours, including red, yellow and apple green. $930, fantini.it

← Axor Stark Organic
The female body's natural curves inspired Philippe Starck's minimalist faucet. For a lighter rinse, just twist the nozzle to switch from five litres per minute to a super-efficient 3.4 litres per minute. From $275, axor.com

← Arvelia by Groff
Davide Orpazz's shark-like tap comes with a low-flow gladiator and features a joystick lever. The high-end version comes with an RGB LED temperature indicator. Available in chrome, white and black. $699-$2,350 with LED, grofffaucets.com

← Aqua by CEA
Talk about a tap with personality. This stainless steel fixture, with its silicone hose, pours five litres per minute, compared to a standard tap's 8.3 litres a minute. From $1,245, ceadesign.it

← Alteo Centre-Set Lavatory by Kohler
This timeless design in polished chrome incorporates a low-flow aerator, which earned it an EPA WaterSense label. $150, kohler.com

← Allure Brilliant by Grohe
This sleek, angular faucet - with an "aqua window" that frames the cascade - delivers a modest 5.7 litres per minute, saving almost three litres from each good hard scrubbing. $735, grohe.co