Shower Column Ametis by Graff is a hot new shower column product for 2011. The “infinity” line of this contemporary shower column leads the eye from the ground up, around and back down again, all in one fluid movement that’s inspired by its function – water. This Shower Column Ametis made of perforated brass, shower column not only offers a estatis design, but also offers a resistance to all weather. An innovative feature also found on the shower column amethyst, which is an integrated LED lighting system which can change from blue to red and vice versa, depending on the used water temperature. Eliminating that dreaded feeling of stepping into a too-cold (or too-hot!) shower. Or, simply enjoy the color-therapy experience, bathing in the choice of red, blue, white and green light. This cool shower column comes in chrome, black and white powder-coated finishes, offering ultra-modern variations on a classic look. Fore information is available online at Graff. (more...)

Traditional Storage Furniture with Retro graffiti style

Capri is a Traditional Wood Storage Furniture is decorated with graffiti in retro style by PortobelloStreet. This Wood Storage Furniture inspired by the classical years of Formula-1 races and Paris. There are a sideboard and cupboard in the collection. I think it's an innovation – to decorate traditional furniture with modern graffiti but in retro style. All the parts are made of cherry wood, MDF and thick glass with glossy silver or other finish. The pieces are available in different colors but I think the most striking are red, silver and beige. Such pieces will look fantastic in modern, retro, romantic or even traditional interior. via housevaganza.com (more...)
